

President Requests 3 Billion More For Defense Purposes During Current Fiscal Year

Nearly Half Of Big Total Would Be Direct Grant

By The Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24—President Roosevelt asked congress today for an additional $3,123,117,197 for national defense purposes for the balance of the current fiscal year.

Of the total $1,716,225,000 would be a direct appropriation and $2,096,098,197 would be contractual authority.

Specific items include:
To expedite production of equipment and supplies, including erection of new plants and acquisition of land, $292,000,000 of which $107,000,000 would be for payments under contracts authorized in appropriation acts for this year. In addition, contractual authority up to $576,396,000 would be given the war department.

Regular supplies of the army, $10,000,000, of which $3,280,000 would be in contractual authority.

Military posts, including construction of buildings and acquisition of land, $32,000,000, in addition to $113,237,565 in contractual authority.

Air corps: $558,236,000 cash and $524,025,000 in contractual authority.

Roosevelt Asks Funds For 'Defense Facilities'

By The Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24—President Roosevelt asked congress today for $150,000,000 to build community facilities in towns where he said an acute shortage impedes "essential national defense activities."

The President said that military strategy has required establishment of army and navy posts and defense plants near localities without adequate public services for large number of newly-arriving workers. No specific areas were designated.

"There have been shortages of housing, insufficient sanitary and health facilities, overcrowding of transportation services, and inadequate recreational facilities," the message continued.

"In fact, this shortage of essential public facilities has handicapped our rearmament effort in some areas."

Civil Service Urged For More U. S. Employees

By The Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24—Extension of the classified civil service to all federal employees except those in policy-making positions and those requiring senate confirmation was proposed today by a committee headed by Associate Justice Reed of the Supreme Court.

President Roosevelt transmitted his report, with an accompanying message, to congress.

"We are satisfied," Reed informed chief executive, "that the organization of the government service as a career on a Democratic basis is essential to the proper conduct of public affairs."

A subcommittee proposed that congress, by legislation, standardize the mandatory retirement age at 70 years and the optional retirement age at 80 years, after 15 years or more of service.

'Pirates Of Penzance' To Be Presented Here By Opera Association

The Ohio Valley Opera association of Beaver will present the comic light opera, "Pirates of Penzance," Wednesday at 8:30 p. m. in the East Liverpool high school auditorium under the auspices of the Ceramic City Male chorus.

This will be the second in the series of three concerts given by the Ceramic City chorus itself, by the Ceramic City chorus itself, will be given on Monday, March 31, in the high school auditorium.

Those who witnessed last year's performance of "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Trial by Jury" will avail themselves of the opportunity to attend "Pirates of Penzance," the tune "Hail! Hail! The Gang's All Here!" is found in this comedy opera and the "battle royal" between the pirates and the police is one of the exciting parts of the show.

The opera was written as a satire in the manner for which Gilbert and Sullivan became famous. The dialog is as fresh today as when it was written 50 years ago and the melodies as scintillating as if written in our present time, sponsors said.

The Ohio Valley Opera association has gained an enviable reputation since it was organized three years ago. In that time 27 performances have been given.

AID BILL RIPPED AS 'WAR ORDER'

Clark Claims Britain Fights For Commercial Power

By The Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 — If the senate gives the British aid bill "an overwhelming majority," Sen. Clark (D) of Idaho declared today, it will be tantamount to "a declaration of war."

"Don't be alarmed," he added with broad sarcasm. "It won't be called that. We call it, I think, a 'war order' bill."

Clark assailed the legislation in an address prepared for senate delivery as the general debate moved into its seventh day.

Britain, he asserted, is fighting for "commercial supremacy," not democracy.

"German Nazism, Italian Fascism, Russian Communism and British imperialism; there is little to distinguish them." That was his verdict on European ideologies.

Poll indicates Passage
Clark views the lease-lend bill as an instrument that would enable "the President to conduct an undeclared war anywhere in the world" and said that it might jeopardize "our precious liberties."

Although declaring that the bill "is war" and that he will vote against it for that reason, the Idahoan conceded that it will receive senate approval.

An Associated Press poll on the chamber shows that the administration can count on at least 52 votes for the measure—four more than now constitutes a majority.

The poll results:
For the bill—52 (46 Democrats, five Republicans, one Independent).

Against the bill—20 (eight Democrats, 11 Republicans, one Progressive).

Uncommitted—21 (10 Democrats, 11 Republicans).

Unavailable—2 (one Democrat and one Republican).

Some of those who asked to be reported "uncommitted" said privately they will vote for the bill. Others of the same group said they would approve it if some amendments were adopted.

"Commercial Supremacy"
Resumption of debate found the bill's backers revising their hopes of getting a final senate vote by Thursday or Friday and then a quick house approval of senate changes so that the legislation could be delivered to President Roosevelt by the week-end.

Clark, lead-off man for another series of opposition speeches on the bill, asserted in his prepared address that Great Britain "is fighting for precisely the same thing she fought for at the same time."

80 Merchants Join For Dollar Day Thursday

MORE than 80 East Liverpool merchants are prepared today for the 54th semi-annual Dollar day expected to attract thousands of tri-state district shoppers to the business area Thursday.

One of the two value-giving events sponsored every year by the Retail Merchants' division of the Chamber of Commerce, merchants said the day will offer a wider purchasing power for the consumer's dollar than at any other time in the next six months.

Merchants were marking down prices on virtually all lines and arranging large stocks that will be on hand when the sales event opens at 9 a. m.

Bargains will be available in all lines, especially for those seeking household goods or men's, women's and children's wearing apparel.

Eagerly anticipated for weeks, Dollar day is an occasion that gives shoppers an opportunity to cash in on the bargain benefits earned through steady patronage of East Liverpool stores.

The famed mercantile event will offer plenty of bargains for everyone, merchants pointed out, adding that those who shop during the morning will be in on the cream of the specials.

Quadruplets Are Born To Kentucky Farmer, Raising Family To 12

By The Associated Press.
LEITCHFIELD, Ky., Feb. 24 — A modest, white frame farm house 2 miles west of this small, west-central Kentucky county seat, should be very familiar to "Mr. Stork."

He stopped there four times yesterday in four hours, much to the astonishment of Mr. and Mrs. Porter Lasley, their eight other children, their neighbors, the doctor and most everybody else for miles 'round.

A farm house thronged with curious folk, Dr. John C. Tucker decided, wasn't the most convenient place for four babies so the quadruplets—Beulah, Mildred and Martine and their brother, John Lasley—were bundled into a specially-equipped ambulance and taken to the big city hospital in Louisville, 80 miles away.

Dr. Burt Zimmann and three nurses, who rode in the ambulance, said in Louisville that their 13 pounds of squirming passengers apparently stood the trip well. Earlier, Dr. Tucker had said all but the boy were "very good" and that the dark-haired mother was "doing nicely."

Beulah was first to be born—at 8:30 a. m. while father Lasley and seven children were at church. Only Ruth, 10, who has a broken arm, was at home with her mother. Another 30 minutes passed before Dr. Tucker appeared.

Mildred arrived at 10:30. Then came John—named for the doctor—at 12:15 p. m. and 15 minutes later Martine—named for the nurse rushed from Leitchfield.

John weighed 5 pounds and 3 of an ounce, Beulah—named for her sister—weighed 5 pounds and her two sisters 4 pounds each.

WALKOUT AUTHORIZED
AT BETHLEHEM PLANT

By The Associated Press.
Union officials backed by a strike authorization vote held the threat of a walkout today over operations of the Bethlehem Steel Co.'s plant at Lackawanna, N. Y., where 14,000 workers have been maintaining capacity production on defense orders totaling millions.

Members of CIO's Steel Workers Organizing Committee, contending that the company has been reluctant to discuss a demand for a 25 percent pay increase and other grievances, participated in a strike referendum which ended last midnight.

Settlement of a strike which has tied up $45,000,000 of defense production for more than a month is believed in sight after CIO unionists at the Allis-Chalmers plant in Milwaukee agreed to minimum terms for calling off their walkout.

BRITISH, TURKS STIFFEN STAND IN TWO CRISES

London Warns Japanese On Expansion; Ankara Acts To Nip Nazi March

By The Associated Press.
Britain and Turkey, her neutral ally, took a stiffer attitude in the twin crises of the Balkans and the Far East today.

Authoritative diplomatic quarters in London said Britain has served notice on Japan that Japanese expansion southward "enhances dangers" in the Pacific.

Militarily allied to Britain, Turkey declared through her foreign minister, Sukru Saracoglu, that she would find it impossible to remain indifferent to foreign activities which might occur in her security zone.

This was an evident reference to Hitler's reported intention to send Nazi troops through Bulgaria or an attack on Greece. Turkey long has regarded Bulgaria as part of her security zone.

"Turkey will oppose with force any and all aggression which might be directed against her territorial integrity or her independence," Saracoglu warned.

Some observers said they believe the statement was prompted by Bulgaria's seeming inclination to interpret her week-old non-aggression accord with Turkey as an indication that Turkey is indifferent to German troop movements across Bulgaria, so long as Turkey's borders are not violated.

German officers already are established in Sofia, Bulgaria's capital, and Bulgarian police halted all automobile traffic yesterday in the Sofia district without explanation as police began a nationwide hunt for Bulgarians spreading anti-German leaflets.

British Claim Advance
Continues In Somaliland

By The Associated Press.
British headquarters at Cairo said today that the British advance in the whole area east of the Juba river in Italian Somaliland "is developing successfully."

Mussolini's high command, meanwhile, asserted that "violent enemy attacks" against the Italian garrison in the Giarabub oasis in Libya, have been "smashed once more" by the "tenacious resistance of our heroic troops."

In East Africa, the Fascist command said, two companies of Italian troops attacked "preposterously" British forces west of Zilmani, in the Sudan, compelling the British to retreat "with heavy losses."

The high command also reported heavy fighting in the lower Juba zone of Italian Somaliland, where the British say they twice have crossed the Juba river in a drive toward the capital and Indian ocean port, Mogadiscio.

Facilities Are Shifted
Storage, trans-shipment, financing and insurance facilities, which have made Rotterdam and Amsterdam two of the world's most active and prosperous ports now have been shifted to Hamburg and Bremen, their German competitors, the reports said.

German occupation authorities already have established domination of Dutch finance, industry and agriculture, the reports point out, by purchasing, requisitioning or assuming control over banks, factories and agriculture.

Despite German efforts to make the Netherlands a "paying conquest," the reports state that the blockade, breakdown of normal industrial and shipping facilities, and other effects of the war are creating increasingly severe problems, particularly where the nation's food supply is concerned.

Milk Production Cut
Holland normally has been a large exporter of dairy products but a shortage of feedstuffs and fodder, formerly imported, has caused milk production to decline as much as 14 percent.

Slaughter of animals, also resulting from the feedstuffs shortage, has forced the occupation authorities to cut the meat ration from one pound a week to one pound every 10 days.

Canada Widens Hunt For Airplane Bearing Celebrated Scientist

By The Associated Press.
MONTREAL, Feb. 24—An intensive search is underway for a military airplane missing since Friday morning with Dr. Sir Frederick Banting, co-discoverer of insulin and one of Canada's outstanding scientists, aboard as a passenger.

Besides Sir Frederick, a major in the Canadian army, the plane carried a crew of three: Capt. Joseph Creighton Mackey, 31, formerly a test pilot with the civil aeronautics administration in Kansas City; Navigator William Bird of Kildermister, England; and William Snailham of Bedford, N. S.

An official announcement issued here last night described the missing aircraft only as "a military airplane being delivered by a civilian organization."

It gave no indication of whether it had taken off nor its intended destination but indicated it may have come down somewhere in the sea along the eastern coast of Canada or in some remote section of the maritime provinces or Newfoundland.

The plane had favorable weather conditions when last heard from, the announcement said, but it did not reach its destination nor had its radio been heard since Friday morning.

Sir Frederick had devoted much of his time in the last two years to research in the field of aviation medicine. He was born in 1891 in Alliston, Ont.

Trade Made To Fit Into New Order Plan For Europe

By LLOYD LEHRBAS
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 — The Nazi conquerors of The Netherlands are transforming the Dutch—one of the world's greatest trading nations before the war—into an "economic colony" of Nazi Germany, according to authoritative reports received in diplomatic quarters here.

Transfer of major Dutch shipping activities to German ports, the reports stated, provide the latest advancement of Germany's plans to change The Netherlands from a liberal, free-trade "middle-man" into a "directed economy" fitting into the Nazi "new order" scheme for Europe.

BRITISH CONVOY REACHES PORT DESPITE NAZIS

Five German Attackers Are Reported Shot Down In Mediterranean Duel

By LARRY ALLEN
Associated Press Staff Writer
WITH THE BRITISH MEDITERRANEAN FLEET, Feb. 24—British warships beat off attempts by German bombers to smash a group of convoys ships and brought the vessels safely through to a central Mediterranean port today.

German low-level raiders attacked the fleet units three times. Withering anti-aircraft barrages, aided by navy fighter planes, accounted for five of the Nazi attackers.

(The German high command announced today that in the Mediterranean German combat planes sank a 10,000-ton "enemy merchantman" north of the Libyan port of Derna and informed Berlin sources said a 4,000-ton freighter was believed sunk in the same area.)

(The Italian high command announced today that German bombing planes had attacked a formation of British warships in the eastern Mediterranean, hitting a large ship, "which probably sank.")

7. Italian Supply Ships
Sunk, Britain Says

By The Associated Press.
LONDON, Feb. 24—The admiral said yesterday that seven Italian supply ships have been blasted to the bottom of the Mediterranean in recent submarine operations and disclosed indirectly that Britain has sent some of her latest model undersea craft into the sea siege of the Fascist empire.

This announcement came in the wake of the admiral's proclamation of a vast danger zone in the Mediterranean in which naval circles said "anything can happen."

It also led Britons to hope that the Mediterranean has become "Cunningham's pond"—for Admiral Sir Andrew Cunningham, commander of the British Mediterranean fleet—instead of mare nostrum (our sea)—as the Italians call it.

The admiral's announcement that British submarines are continuing to sink Italian supply ships listed two submarines—the Upholder and the Utmost—which are not found in the latest naval reference books, thus indicating they are among Britain's newest submarines.

Playing Of Music

By The Associated Press.
SOFIA, Bulgaria, Feb. 24 — U. S. Minister George H. Earle said a washroom argument over the British World War marching song "Tipperary" preceded a champagne bottle fight in a Sofia cafe early yesterday morning in which he suffered an arm injury and a man whom he identified as a German was knocked unconscious.

"The trouble began," Earle explained at a press conference last night, "when the German cornered me in a washroom and demanded to know why I had given the orchestra 10 bucks to play Tipperary."

"I told him that was my business and that Bulgaria is a neutral country. He then followed me outside and threw a champagne bottle which just missed my head."

German Long-Range Guns Pound England; R. A. F. Raids Ports

By The Associated Press.
GERMAN long-range guns opened fire on Britain's coast across the Dover straits early today after strong forces of German aircraft yesterday swarmed over the channel where they were met by British fighters.

Some of the raiders broke through and a few explosions were heard in the London district. The capital had two night alerts of brief duration.

The British again reported attacks on the German invasion ports of Boulogne and Calais on the Nazi-occupied French coast.

(At Berlin, authorized Germans reported today that Nazi shore batteries on the French coast had dispersed a British convoy off Dover.)

DUCE SEES AXIS
WINNING IN END

Huge Losses Acknowledged
In African Campaign

By The Associated Press.
Benito Mussolini told the Italian people in an unheralded speech Sunday that an Axis victory over England is certain, although the fight may be long.

Speaking at Rome, he acknowledged that British victories in Italian North Africa have destroyed "one entire army" as well as the "fifth air squadron" in Libya. But he declared "Italy, whatever happens, will march to the end" side by side with Germany and predicted an eventual triumph of Axis arms.

In this connection he revealed that German air and armored detachments now are in Sicily and Libya.

He Duce said that 14,000 officers and 396,358 men had been stationed in Libya to drive toward the Suez canal. But the British he said got the jump on the Italians by attacking "five or 10 days" before the Italians were ready to start their own push.

Mussolini also said the Italian "season" is coming in which the Greeks in Albania will be dealt with. In Athens a few hours later a government spokesman said that the Greeks captured 1,272 Italians during the last week, repulsed 16 Fascist counter-attacks and shot down six Italian planes.

Nazi Power Stressed
The largest section of Mussolini's address was devoted to the power of Nazi Germany. This power, he asserted, did not diminish during the winter but rather increased by "gigantic" proportions.

Germany's human losses were held to a "minimum" in proportion to the effort, and losses in material were "insignificant," he declared.

"May it be said for foreigners who are always ready for wicked slander that the behavior of German soldiers in Sicily and Libya is perfect in every way," he added.

Italy's losses in the Greek campaign, he assured his listeners, were limited to "a few thousands, mostly wounded, while the Greek

SEA OFFENSIVE JUST STARTING, FUEHRER CRIES

Declares Germany Must Be Reckoned With In World As Economic Power

By The Associated Press.
MUNICH, Feb. 24—(Via Radio)—Adolf Hitler warned his enemies today that a joint German-Italian submarine campaign will be loosed upon them next Monday and almost in the same breath announced that an already expanded U-boat campaign has sunk 90,000 tons of enemy warships within the last two days.

He said the destroyed naval craft had been conveying supply ships which also were sunk, bringing the total destruction of the sortie at sea to 215,000 tons.

The new underwater thrust starting next month will employ "new types" of submarines, Hitler declared, adding:

"One thing is sure: Where British ships will appear, and where Britain will fight us, we will fight them and destroy them."

"Should Not Be Ridiculed"
The "strongest cooperation" binds Germany and Italy, he said, a combination that should not be ridiculed by the enemy.

"They will know shortly, when our new types of submarines are going to be brought into the expanded warfare," he said. "They will find out in March and April what German-Italian submarine cooperation will mean to them."

Hitler, giving thanks that he is hale and hearty and able to lead the fight, remarked that he feels "that spring is in the air."

He spoke for nearly an hour and a half progressing from a recital of achievements of the National Socialist party to an oratorical outburst castigating future war plans.

"Our battles at sea only can begin now. The reason is that we wanted to school the new U-boat crews for the battle to come."

The reich leader spoke on the 21st anniversary of the founding of the National Socialist party.

Economic Factor Cited
(His address was picked up in the United States by NBC and CBS short wave monitors, but was not broadcast in full.)

"Just a few hours ago," Hitler said, "I received a notice from our high command that our naval forces have just sunk 215,000 tons of enemy shipping. It was a convoy and 90,000 tons of the total tonnage were escort vessels while the remainder were transports."

"It will be much more from the first of April, and they will understand then that we haven't slept."

Every nation—including the United States—"must realize that Germany is an 'immensely powerful factor' in world economics, Hitler said in a warning that Germany must be "reckoned with."

"We are going to do business solely on the basis of German advantage," he asserted. "If it's good for Germany, we shall trade, and no American or British interests are going to put a stop to our way of doing business."

"We must be reckoned with and whether we deal on an exchange basis or not that is no business of any international, New York or London bankers."

Traces Rise Of Party
Hitler told the German people that the aims of Germany's enemies following the World war were to keep her "small and ineffective."

The party thereupon was provoked to unify the German people, he said. "To us, all Germans had to be Germans, first, last and always."

Hitler traced the rise of the party he helped to found and shouted to his partisans a recapitulation of the hardships he said the party had endured in freeing Germany from shackles of the Versailles treaty.

Then he told how political leaders were forced to convert the post-war German government from one for special interests into one for all the people of the reich. In this respect, Hitler said, the Jews had the "greatest responsibility for the maintenance of that ill-fated system."

Hitler touched on American participation in post-war developments when he said that "even the high sounding promises of former President Wilson turned out to be so much talk."

Minister Praises School Heads Work

In appreciation of the work of teachers and officials of the Bible school, Rev. D. Park Chapman, pastor of the First Church of Christ, gave a sermon Sunday morning in which he extolled their contribution to the development of character of those taught by them, which, he also noted, helps in the furthering of God's kingdom in the world.

During this service the officials and teachers of the congregation's school sat in a group, about 45 in number. The theme of Rev. Chapman's sermon was "A Tribute to Officers and Teachers of Our Church School."

He utilized as a text a translation by Moffett of a declaration by the Apostle Paul when he wrote to the Romans:

"The teacher must mind his teaching and the superintendent be in earnest." In attendance were some teachers who had taught continuously for more than 25 years.

Pointing out that many connected with churches are possessed "with hearts not right with God," Emerson McBane, a second-year student in the Pittsburgh-Xenia Theological seminary, urged that such persons pray so that "the thought of their hearts might be changed Sunday morning at the First United Presbyterian church."

A member of the congregation, he filled the pulpit in the absence of Rev. Clyde H. Canfield, the pastor, who preached at a union service of seven congregations of Sterling, Kan., in the Sterling college auditorium.

The theme of the theological student, was "Not For Sale." He based his discourse upon the attempt of Simon, the sorcerer of Samaria, to receive the Holy Ghost for money.

Rev. Sowards Talks On Safety And Refuge

Throughout the years people of the world have sought safety and security, declared Rev. Erville E. Sowards, pastor of the First Baptist church, Sunday morning. "And this is possible if the conditions are met by those who would be cared for."

The Psalmist pointed out that "God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble." "But it must be remembered that to gain such assurance of help making for security and safety those expecting such things must ask them of God as if they were His children. Refuge means safety and protection. It is that which people sought throughout all their existence."

Minister Sees Need For New Church Loyalty

Rev. Russell K. Caulk, rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal church, made a plea for individual loyalty to profession and church that will admit of Christian progress throughout the land, in a sermon Sunday night.

"Church members everywhere should awaken to the possibility that unless there is a return to the genuine conviction that characterized early adherents of the church, the architecture of our individual buildings may become so ugly as to warrant the loss of those things which we here in America think we will not lose," he outlined.

Why Go To Church?

World's Greatest Need Is Return To Religion; We Can Find Inspiration And Strength In Church Worship

By FRANCIS H. LANG

Member, Commission On Religious Education

ONE of the easiest things that Man does is to blame someone else for his misfortunes. It is, therefore, only natural that many conclude their survey of today's world conditions with the fear that God has forsaken them.

If we have the abiding faith in God's wisdom that we should have, we must realize that God never will forsake us. Unfortunately though, we too often forget God.

One of my strongest convictions is that many of our problems today are the result, directly or indirectly, of our continued indifference to God's word. Selfishness is the real cause of war. In the final analysis, selfishness is also the root of our economic difficulties.

We all need to think more of service to our fellow man and less of what we can get from him. If we all suddenly could adopt the principles of brotherly love as taught by the Great Master, most of our problems would melt into oblivion.

The world needs many things, but its greatest need is a return to religion. A return to religion necessarily means a return to the church because there are few who can be loyal to Christ without being first faithful to His church.

We need the inspiration and strength to be found in the church's worship service. The church also needs us.

Let us all join the "Go-to-Church" movement and resolve to attend regularly.

13 Choral Groups Give Varied Program For Annual Festival

The fourth annual choir festival, sponsored by the Ceramic City Male chorus, in which 13 musical units of East Liverpool and surrounding territory participated, attracted an audience that filled to capacity the large auditorium of the First Methodist church Sunday afternoon.

The whole made for an ambitious and varied program of music by outstanding composers.

The audience was made up of members from all churches of the locality.

Feature of the appealing program was music by the combined choirs at the conclusion when, directed by Anthony Caputo of the First Methodist choir and accompanied by Mrs. J. P. Calhoun of the First Presbyterian chorus, more than 250 voices sang, "Lift Up Your Heads" from "The Messiah" (Handel).

The benediction was given by Rev. M. Rudolph Miller, minister of the First Presbyterian church.

The invocation was given by Rev. William Dwight Heaton of the First Methodist church.

The organ prelude was by Miss Bernadine Williamson and the postlude, "Hosanna" (Dubois) was by Mrs. Calhoun. The latter also accompanied the First Presbyterian choirs. During the offertory Mrs. Harold Downard, accompanist of the Ceramic City Male chorus, played the "Aria from 12 Minor Sonatas" (Handel). Miss Adda McLane was the First United Presbyterian choir accompanist, while Mrs. Jesse Hall Kaufman accompanied the East Liverpool Madrigal club.

The Young People's choir of Chester, sang "God Is a Spirit" (Sholin) directed by Donald Bradford, who also directed the First Presbyterian choir of Chester, in "Hear My Prayer" (James). Another visiting contingent was the Second Presbyterian church choir of Wellsville, directed by Mrs. Bessie T. Baughman. Its members sang "Cherubim Song No. 7" (Bortyanski), and "Blessed Be This House" (Brake). From Leetonia came the high school A Cappella choir directed by Charles E. Thompson, which sang "A Legend" (Tschakowsky). Another visiting contingent was the Junior Choristers of Beaver, directed by Mr. Caputo. Their contributions were "Lead Me Lord" (Wesley) and "Prayer" from "Hansel and Gretel" (Humperdinck).

Mr. Caputo also directed the First Methodist choir of East Liverpool in "Go Thou Not Far From Me" (Zingarelli). He was the director also of the Ceramic City Male chorus as its members sang, "How Lovely Is Thy Dwelling Place" (Brahms).

Miss Kathryn Ogilvie was director of three of the musical units. These were the East Liverpool High school chorus which sang

JURY RULES INSANITY IN DEATH OF CHILD, 2

Cleveland Mother Must Go To Lima State Hospital

By The Associated Press.
CLEVELAND, Feb. 24—Acquitted by "reason of insanity" in the slaying of her 2-year-old son, Mrs. Julie Barnett, 26, today awaited a commitment to the State Hospital for the Criminal Insane at Lima.

A jury of seven men and five women took only one ballot to reach the acquittal verdict last Friday in Mrs. Barnett's trial on a charge of manslaughter.

She had testified she "did not remember" beating her son, David, to death with a pancake turner last Dec. 28. She recalled slapping her daughter, Patty, aged 1, and then spanking the boy because he wet himself, but after that "I don't know what happened," she said.

Dr. Royal G. Grossman, criminal court psychiatrist, testified the mother was insane at the time of the slaying.

He concurred in the opinion that

Mrs. Barnett is sane at present, but under the law insanity is presumed to continue until the defendant is adjudged officially sane. She will remain at the hospital until a board of psychiatrists rules on her sanity.

Because of Mrs. Barnett's distraught condition Common Pleas Judge Frank J. Lausche deferred until Tuesday the order of commitment.

CAMEL FOR FLAVOR

AT THE ROUNDHOUSE high up on Sun Valley's famous Baldy Mountain, Dick Durance (above) takes time out for another Camel. "That Camel flavor is something special," he says. "Never wears out its welcome."

And the answer is Camel's costlier tobaccos in a matchless blend—they're slower-burning!

Try the slower-burning cigarette yourself. Know the supreme pleasure of a smoke free from the excess heat and irritating qualities of too-fast burning... extra cool, extra mild. Enjoy every flavorful puff with the comforting assurance of science that in Camels you're getting less nicotine in the smoke (above, right).

BY BURNING 25% SLOWER than the average of the 4 other largest-selling brands tested—slower than any of them—Camels also give you a smoking plus equal, on the average, to 5 EXTRA SMOKES PER PACK!

OHIO WOMEN AID DEFENSE EFFORT

Red Cross, Other Activities Show Definite Upturn

By The Associated Press. Thousands of Ohio women are contributing their services to the defense program, although only a few, actually are engaged in fashioning implements of war.

A survey today disclosed sharply rising activity in Red Cross and similar fields, with nearly all cities making some contribution to the cause of Great Britain.

A notable exception was Akron, where approximately 1,500 women are helping make gas masks, cementing barrage balloons, making non-rigid blimps and bullet-proof gasoline tanks.

Akron Adds Course
Anticipating a possible return to World War conditions, Akron university has added a course in draftsmanship for women, and provision has been made for teaching electric welding to the fair sex.

At the same time, scores of Akron women applied for inspectors' jobs at the new munitions plant near Ravenna, and some 4,500 women are engaged in some phase of Red Cross work.

Preparation also is the keynote at Cincinnati, where the Hamilton County Republican Women's club sent out questionnaires to determine availability of women for first aid, nursing, canning and the production of foodstuffs.

Red Cross Active
No new work in defense industries was reported for women at Youngstown, although the usual employment was available in raincoat and pants factories, and some were employed at an electric bulb plant.

A similar situation exists at Toledo, although several companies with defense contracts have augmented their usual number of female helpers.

The Red Cross reported 12,000 volunteers at Cleveland made 350,000 surgical dressings for the U. S. army.

NO. 25—DEPRECIATION ALLOWANCES

THE amount to be recovered by depreciation is the cost of the property, if acquired by purchase after February 28, 1913. If acquired by purchase prior to March 1, 1913, the basis is the cost of the property, less depreciation sustained prior to March 1, 1913, or the fair market value on March 1, 1913, whichever is greater.

The proper allowance for depreciation is that amount which should be set aside for the taxable year in accordance with a reasonable consistent plan (not necessarily a uniform rate) whereby the aggregate amount so set aside, plus the salvage value, will at the end of the useful life of the property equal the cost or other basis of the property.

The depreciation rate of a building is not based upon the number of years it will stand before being condemned and razed but on the number of years it will remain habitable or serviceable, for the purpose for which constructed.

If the taxpayer builds a new building, the period over which depreciation may be claimed begins at the time the building is completed and capable of being used. Buildings under construction are not subject to a depreciation allowance.

If it is clearly shown that, because of economic or other conditions, property must be abandoned at a date prior to the end of its normal useful life, so that depreciation deductions alone are insufficient to return the cost or other basis, a reasonable deduction for obsolescence may be allowed in addition to depreciation.

No deduction for obsolescence is permitted because, in the opinion of the taxpayer, the property may become obsolete at some future date.

NEXT: Automobile Deductions.

BULLET TAKES LIFE OF EX-RED OFFICER

Bomb Inventor Found Dead In Upper Manhattan

By The Associated Press. NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—With a bullet wound in the head, the body of Michael Borisavsky, 55-year-old former colonel in the Russian imperial army and inventor of a bomb which a friend said has been submitted to the U. S. war department, was found outside a convent in upper Manhattan last night.

Assistant Medical Examiner Raymond B. Miles listed the death as a homicide when no gun was discovered at the scene. Dr. Frederick Ziman, a neighbor of Borisavsky, found the body.

Detective Lieut. John Hogan learned from the slain Russian's wife, that although he had been suffering from a heart ailment several years, he had perfected several military inventions, which she said were worth "between $600,000 and $700,000" and were being patented in Washington.

Mrs. Borisavsky said she knew of no enemies her husband might have had, nor any reason he might have killed himself. She added that she worked as a hospital employee and had been supporting him.

Col. Peter Zouboff, a friend of the slain man, said there is no political significance in Borisavsky's death.

$20 Also Stolen At Central School On Saturday

Two burglaries—one of $189 in valuables and cash from a Jennings ave. home and another of about $20 from the Central school—were under police investigation today. Both occurred Saturday.

J. W. Greenwood of 1201 Jennings ave. told police his home was ransacked sometime between 2 and 6 p. m. Saturday by thieves who apparently gained entrance with a skeleton key.

Mr. Greenwood said they carried off a yellow gold hunting case watch valued at $75, a white gold ring with a large center stone and four smaller stones, valued at $100, a baby's bank containing $12, a silver dollar and $1 in currency.

Police said the money taken from the school was stolen from a locker in the office of Assistant Principal Harold Campbell. Police said the office was entered by smashing a transom, but they could not find how the thieves entered the building.

Chief Hugh J. McDermott said it appears that it was a "job of boys looking for money." A case containing a valuable motion picture camera owned by Mr. Campbell was smashed, but the camera was not harmed, police said.

GILLETTE DENOUNCES 'SMEAR' CAMPAIGNS

Will Introduce Bills In Effort To Curb Evil Literature

By The Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Armed with extensive samples of "smear" material, Sen. Gillette (D) of Iowa said today he will place before congress alternate legislative remedies "for the intolerable situation existing in scurrilous and evil campaign literature."

"It is high time," he told newspapermen, "that congress should try to curb the destructive appeals to race and religious prejudices in political campaigns."

As chairman of the special senate committee appointed to police the recent national elections, Gillette made a nationwide sampling of "scurrilous and indecent campaign literature." He made clear, however, that he acted on his own initiative in suggesting legislation.

Gillette already has filled two huge scrapbooks with political advertisements.

"Most of this rotten stuff is anonymous," he said. "That offers an approach for a legislative cure."

The senator said his first bill would make it unlawful to circulate campaign material under a false name and the printer. He said his alternative bill also would call for full identification of sponsors and printers without criminal penalties, except that such material could be barred from the mails and denied importation into the United States.

MUSSOLINI

losses have been "extremely high."

Mussolini referred twice to the United States. The first time he said: "England is alone. This isolation pushes her toward the United States, from which she desperately and urgently invokes aid."

"The industrial power of the United States is certainly great but for it to be felt supplies must reach England safely and must be in quantities not only to compensate for the destruction wrought and to be wrought on the industrial plants of Britain, but to give superiority over Germany which is impossible because men, machines and raw materials of the entire European continent now are working with Germany."

The second reference to the United States was this:

"Let me say that what is happening in the United States is one of the most colossal mystifications in the records of history. An illusion and a lie are at the base of American intervention, the illusion that the United States is still a democracy while in fact it is really a political, financial oligarchy dominated by Jewry through a form of extremely personal dictatorship."

EAST PALESTINE FIRE CAUSES $500 DAMAGE

Special To The Review. EAST PALESTINE, Feb. 24.—A fire that smoldered for three hours before breaking out between the walls, caused an estimated $500 damage and drove an invalid into the cold at the home of Mrs. Alice Yoder on North Market st. hill here at 5 p. m. Sunday.

Mrs. Yoder discovered a flaming basket of refuse near the furnace about 2 o'clock. However, after the basket was extinguished Mrs. Yoder continued to smell smoke. Firemen were summoned, but an investigation failed to find the blaze, which finally broke out about three hours later between the walls of the six-room stone structure. Most of the damage was caused by smoke and water.

Miss Louise Griner, 70, an invalid for 20 years, was carried from the house to the home of a neighbor. The two women and a nurse live in the damaged house.

REV. CAMERON TO GIVE UP RED CROSS OFFICE

Special To The Review. LISBON, Feb. 24.—The Columbiana county Red Cross chapter will meet Thursday night in the City building to reorganize as the result of the resignation of Rev. J. M. Cameron, chairman for several years.

Highway Conditions In East Central Ohio

THE new two-mile section of state route 7, the Ohio river road between Stebbenville and Toronto, will be dedicated Thursday night with a ceremony arranged by the Toronto Kiwanis club.

With the exception of construction of the shoulders and erection of the guard rail the job has been completed at a cost of $244,262. The dedication will consist of a dinner in the Toronto Methodist church at 6:15 at which Clyde Moyer, assistant engineer of the Ohio department of highways' bureau of location and right-of-way, will discuss "Ohio Highways and Progress."

Only one new detour in eastern Ohio has been announced by the state highway department for the week of Feb. 22-23. This is in the city of Alliance where a sewer construction project by a WPA force has closed route 173. The detour is over other paved streets in the city, adding no extra travel distance. Three other detours have been announced on roads in the central and southern sections of the state.

Route 517, Lisbon-East Fairfield road for widening, resurfacing and bridge construction from Lisbon to 558, a WPA project; traffic maintained.

Route 22, the Stebbenville-Cambridge road, from route 43 west for one and two-thirds miles; traffic is maintained.

Route 332, Carrollton-Solo road, grading and paving roadway for 3 1/2 miles north of route 151; one-way traffic.

Route 224, Poland-East road, repairing roadway from Poland east for four miles; traffic maintained.

Route 89, Minerva-Sandyville road, paving and relocating roadway for a half mile west of route 542; traffic maintained.

LEGION REGISTERS 67 IN DEFENSE ROUNDUP

Special To The Review. LISBON, Feb. 24.—J. Homer Browne, commander of the John Welsh American Legion post here, announced today 67 veterans were registered Saturday for defense service.

He said the registration will go over 100, of which 35 are former service men without affiliations. The replies in the questionnaire indicated every man registered is "ready for immediate call if the nation goes to war," 27 percent are ready for defense service, while 70 percent refused to go into the National Guard, however. The registration is part of a nationwide Legion preparation for defense.

Special To The Review. ALLIANCE, Feb. 24.—Curtis Partlow Jr., 17, was turned over to Mahoning county juvenile authorities today following the death of his uncle, Elmer Partlow, 33, of Salem, who succumbed Saturday night of head injuries suffered in a family scuffle Feb. 12.

The elder Partlow was treated and released after the injury and returned to the hospital Friday. Governor E. C. Reno turned the case over to the Mahoning County grand jury.

and years: Commercial supremacy.

"She has a right to do this," he continued. "If she wants to kill her sons to preserve the rights of her empire."

"That is her affair, but it is certainly not ours."

British "Miscalculated"

Saying it is "beside the point" to discuss whether Germany should have invaded Poland or whether Britain should have declared war on Germany, Clark added that the British "undertook to starve the Germans into submission" with the blockade.

"They miscalculated and are now in a devil of a fix. And that is about all there is to this war."

Sen. Robert A. Taft, Ohio Republican, in a week-end address, said of the lease-lend bill: "The bill puts the President in a position where he can run the war. He could sit back and direct in detail the activities of the British army and navy and every other nation engaged in war with Germany."

CHAPTER 27

"I DO like you," said David. "But after all, Margo, a man does have to think about making his living—plan his future."

"So Warren says," Margo retorted. "But I think neither you nor he gives much thought to the part a girl plays in that future you talk so much about."

"I do," said David with emphasis.

"Oh, well, what's the use of talking about it?" said Margo wearily. "I'm going back to the people who think as I do. I hope you and Warren never regret sticking in a town like this."

"We won't!" Again that emphasis.

Margo looked up in David's face. She smiled sadly. "What a shame," she said, "that you're throwing away a possible chance to see the world. If things had turned out differently, we might have had fun, David—you and I."

"I have fun right here."

"Yes, I know. But—" Margo touched David's cheek lightly. "But I think you'd have learned to like my world."

"Fraid not," laughed David. "You know what they say about old dogs and up-to-date tricks."

Margo held out her hand. "Goodbye, David," she said. "I'm taking the express north tomorrow evening. I shan't be seeing you again."

"Goodbye, Margo," David held her hand a moment. "I hope you change your mind and come back to us."

Margo said nothing more. And presently David saw her yellow roadster passing between the wide roads of the lumber yard. He went back to his work. A sense of confusion got hold of him, the confusion that Margo often made him feel. He couldn't tell to save him whether or not she was in love with him. He didn't think it possible, and yet she was always saying things that would lead him to believe that she was.

Oh, the devil! Why waste time thinking about it! He had other things to think about. If he didn't have to work too late that night, he wanted to drop in to see Polly. He would tell her about Margo going away. Maybe this would convince Polly that there was nothing between them—that he didn't want all those advantages Polly had said Margo could give him.

"Here," said the bookkeeper, "address these pay envelopes, will you, David?"

"Sure," said David. He took the envelopes the man was holding out to him, and went to a typewriter.

The bookkeeper chuckled and said: "The cashier at the bank's going to get a surprise when he sees the amount of our payroll. I can just see his Adam's apple bobbing up and down, and his eyes popping."

"He'll probably get a bigger surprise," said David, "when he sees the balance Mr. Powers has in the bank at the end of the month."

Presently the two men were giving all their attention to work. While in the office of old Doctor Ben, Warren McNeill was also busy.

Doctor Ben

"Let's see, Doc," he said, looking over a pencilled list of names. "You want me to take over these people right away, is that it?"

"Yes," said Doctor Ben. "I'm keeping the octogenarians for myself. By the way, Mrs. Lester Blue will probably be wanting you pretty soon. But it's her eighth baby, so you oughtn't to have a very hard time, you and Mrs. Blue." He chuckled. "It's not your first delivery, is it?"

"No," said Warren. "I had a couple while I was stopping off in my home town."

"Good! Then I'll not give it another thought."

"I see," said Warren. "And you want her to marry David. Is that it?"

"Well, so long's he's got to marry somebody—" Peter looked up into Warren's face. "Listen Doctor Warren," he went on. "Do you think me coming to live with Cousin David like I did has kept him from marrying Polly?"

"No, Peter, I don't," David's got

"Just what did you say was wrong with this man, Percy? What's his name?" Warren asked. "Nothing," the matter with him, actually," Doctor Ben replied. "But he thinks there is. He bores everybody to death describing his ailments, all of which are purely imaginary, Warren—so he might as well talk about himself, the most boring subject of all."

"But what am I supposed to do for him?"

"Give him some harmless medicine with a vile taste. Percy thinks medicine that doesn't taste like the devil is no good." Doctor Ben laughed. "I gave him some for a sore throat once—some medicine that was supposed to have real curative qualities—but Percy brought it back. He said, 'Doctor Ben, this medicine will never cure my throat; I can't even smell it, much less taste it.'"

"Good, Lord!" Warren exclaimed. "He must be a character. I have an idea, Doc! I'll give him some pills made of blue mass. Nothing tastes worse. I remember my grandmother trying to make me take some of it when I was a kid. I couldn't swallow it to save me, and wasted a whole box. What worried me, though, was wasting Grandmother's medicine, since I loved her like all git-out."

"Go to it," said Doctor Ben. "Percy seldom pays his bills, anyway, and since there's nothing seriously wrong with him, we might as well have our fun. He picked up his old slouch hat. "You take the car. I can walk to see the folks who're expecting me, or have Mose hitch up the horse and buggy."

Warren watched the tall, straight, white-haired figure cross the room.

"One of these days, Doc," he said, "I want to make my calls with the horse and buggy. Do you mind?"

"Of course not," said Doctor Ben. "But what in blazes does a young doctor like you want with that sort of transportation?"

"Oh, I just like the horse and buggy atmosphere," said Warren. "I used to ride around with my grandfather when he drove out to see his patients. He used to let me hold the reins. The horse was white and slow, but he knew everyone of Grandfather's patients, or where they lived, rather. He also knew when there was an emergency, like the time when Mrs. Whiteside had her triplets. He went so fast then, it was practically a runaway. Grandfather said afterwards it was a wonder he didn't land on his head in a field someplace."

"My horse is like that, too," said Doctor Ben. "Automobiles are all right, I reckon. But they don't have under their hoods what horses have inside their heads." He reached for his small black bag. "I won't be gone long, boy."

"What a grand old man," Warren said under his breath. Then he pocketed the list Doctor Ben had given him, picked up his own small black bag, and went out. He got into Doctor Ben's seven-year-old car and drove off down Main street.

Peter came limping out of a grocery store.

"Hi, there, Doctor Warren!" he called. "May I thumb a ride?"

"Sure!" said Warren. "Hop in. I'm going right by your house on my way to call on Polly's Aunt Susan."

Peter took his place beside Warren. "Is Aunt Susan sick?" he asked.

"Oh, she's got a 'miser' in her tummy," Warren said.

"Gee, is that all!"

"You sound disappointed. Don't tell me you want Aunt Susan to have something really serious?"

"Oh, no sir—nothing like that," said Peter. "Only—well, you see, Doctor Warren, just as long as Aunt Susan goes on having things wrong with her, like her stomach miseries, Polly won't marry David."

"I see," said Warren. "And you want her to marry David. Is that it?"

"Well, so long's he's got to marry somebody—" Peter looked up into Warren's face. "Listen Doctor Warren," he went on. "Do you think me coming to live with Cousin David like I did has kept him from marrying Polly?"

GROUP TO FIGHT LARGER PATROL

Law Enforcement Leaders Oppose Expansion Bill

By The Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, Feb. 24—Law enforcement officers in a few counties were reported today to be organizing opposition to a bill which would expand the highway patrol from 200 men to 500 and increase its authority.

They are fearful the enlarged authority might cause the patrolmen to intrude upon the jurisdiction of sheriffs and constables, with the result that the measure is making slow headway in the legislature.

Friends of the bill, and they include high-ranking men in the Republican majority, asserted peace officers are alarmed without justification.

Emergency Program

The proposal, they said, would give the patrol general police powers only in an emergency specified by the governor.

The bill also reads:

"The powers and duties conferred on the state highway patrol shall be supplementary to and in no way a limitation on the powers and duties of sheriffs or peace officers of the state."

The idea behind the proposed legislation is to give the state an agency which would serve in emergencies while the National Guard is in training at Camp Shelby.

The legislature also has under consideration a bill to create an Ohio State Guard patterned after the National Guard.

Meanwhile, labor organizations are watching both bills cautiously, alert to frustrate any move to curb their right to conduct strikes.

The highway patrol's powers at present are restricted to highway and traffic matters, and the law specifically prohibits their use in labor disputes.

"Oh, gee, swell!" Peter said. "Let's go stag," said Peter. "We have fun that way. Sides, Polly is still working down at that millinery shop. They don't shut down Saturday afternoons like out at the mill."

"Okay," said David. "I'll give my afternoon to you, and shall see if I can give my evening to Polly."

He telephoned the millinery shop Saturday morning.

"Dated up this evening, Polly?" he asked.

"No," said Polly.

"Then how about a movie?"

"I'd like it."

Social Affairs

A GEORGE WASHINGTON TEA was featured Saturday afternoon in the assembly room of the Mary Patterson memorial, when the Rebecca Grisco chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution held its annual guest day reception. Among the guests were members of the Meg Latimer society of the Children of the American Revolution.

Mrs. Dean Wilhelm, regent, greeted the guests, after which the group sang the "Star Spangled Banner," accompanied by Miss Bernadine Williamson. Mrs. John A. Fraser, flag chairman, led in saluting the flag and she read the official prayer of the West Point cadets.

Mrs. Adam J. McWilliam, program chairman, presented Miss Ila M. Nicholson of Toronto. Miss Nicholson, teacher of American literature and public speaking classes in the Toronto High school, presented a monologue, "The Family Portrait," in which she presented the families' idea of Jesus, depicting His home life by giving ideas of each member of His family as ordinary members of society during His young manhood.

Mrs. Helen Verna Welch sang, "The Hills of Home" (Fox). Mrs. Welch and Mrs. Sara Gaston Riel gave two vocal duets, "In the Luxembourg Gardens" (Manning) and "I Love To Hear You Singing" (Wood). Mrs. Riel sang, "When I Have Sung My Song" (Charles). Miss Jean Cooper was the accompanist.

Tea was served at a long table decorated in patriotic effect with red carnations, white snapdragons and blue French iris. Mrs. William and Mrs. Donald W. Gass, organizing regent, presided. Approximately 110 guests were present. The social committee included Mrs. E. M. Underwood, chairman, Mrs. A. E. Belden, Mrs. C. W. Arnold, Mrs. Frank Hoover, Mrs. Lloyd Dittmer, Mrs. E. A. Walker, Miss Mary L. Pike, Mrs. Percy Bryan, Mrs. M. D. McCutcheon, and Mrs. Fred Winland and her committee were in charge of the decorations and Mrs. Neil Shope was chairman of reservations.

The next meeting of the chapter will be held March 15 at 8 o'clock at the Mary Patterson memorial, when C. C. Connell, attorney of Lisbon, will give a talk on "Tahiti." At this time donations of old clothes will be received to be sent the Crossnor, southern D.A.R. school.

The Washington Elm Hospital will hold an all-day sewing

March 5 at the home of Mrs. Neil Shope, St. Clair ave.

Mrs. Wilhelm is planning to attend the D. A. R. state convention March 18, 19 and 20, in Cincinnati.

Honoring Miss Jeanne Carson Spore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ward Beecher Spore of West Fourth st., Mrs. Richard Lewis Carson entertained with a luncheon-bridge Saturday afternoon at her home on Lincoln ave. A color scheme of yellow and white with flowers decorated the table.

During the afternoon bridge was enjoyed and trophies were awarded Mrs. Spore and Mrs. William Pomeroy. A gift was presented the honor guest.

Miss Spore will become the bride of Mr. Franklin McCoy Rhodes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Rhodes of Auburndale ave., Youngstown, next Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church. She has chosen her sister, Miss Winifred Spore, as her maid of honor. Mr. Rhodes will have as his best man his brother, Edward Rhodes.

Plans for a 6:30 o'clock birthday dinner were made at a meeting of Class 13 of the Glenmoor United Presbyterian church Friday night in the home of Mrs. John Kirk in Glenmoor, with Mrs. Harry Osborne associate hostess.

Devotionals were conducted by Mrs. Kried, president, who also was in charge of the business session. Mrs. John Eidenre gave the secretary's report.

A quiz was won by Mrs. James McDowell, Mrs. Homer Swift and Mrs. Harold McIntosh.

Refreshments were served 15 by the two hostesses. Washington's birthday favors and patriotic colors were used in the appointments. Guests included Mrs. McDowell, Mrs. Ode Bowman and Mrs. Hubert Henderson.

Reds Initiate Battery Drill Minus Services Of Mittman Lombardi

By The Associated Press.
TAMPA, Fla., Feb. 24—Pitchers and catchers of the World Champion Cincinnati Reds opened the training season here today, but Catcher Ernesto Natali Lombardi was not among them.

Manager Bill McKechnie is "sure the big fellow will be here in time to get plenty of practice" but declined further comment on Ernie's hold-out, which, he said, is "up to the boss" (General Manager Warren C. Giles).

Wild rumors were that "Big Schnoz" gained 50 pounds and is going to give up baseball to become a commercial fisherman. These stories aren't taken very seriously by the camp, which knows the 255-pound mittman as a diet-watcher and opines that he'll tiptoe into town in a few days, ask for pen and sign for that $16,000.

Ernie's not the sort to engage in long-winded arguments over his contract, and his decision probably will be announced with the same abruptness of the "not satisfied" which he has pencilled on his contract offers.

Lom has been with the Reds since 1932.

Late arrivals at the camp included pitchers Johnny Vander Meer, with his pretty bride of five months, Monte Pearson, veteran right-hander, Fireman Joe Beggs, Whitey Moore and Jim Turner and family.

All in all, opening-day atmosphere was pretty optimistic.

Tribe Manager Not Worried About Draft

By The Associated Press.
FT. MYERS, Fla., Feb. 24—Manager Roger Peckinpaugh of the Indians is not losing too much sleep over the possibility that some of the Tribe may have to trade a baseball bat for a gun.

Four bachelor players—Bob Feller, Beau Bell, Mike Nymick and Joe Kraskauskas—all have high draft numbers. Clint Brown and Joe Heving are over the draft age and Rookie Catcher Jim Hegun is under it.

Jeff Heath was born in Canada and only recently started the necessary steps toward obtaining citizenship papers.

Rollie Hemmley's number was 158, but he has been classified as 3-A.

GRID CIRCUIT PLANS STILL ARE INDEFINITE

By The Associated Press.
DAYTON, O., Feb. 24—Harry Baujan, Dayton university athletic director, expects to know this week whether his efforts to promote a new Midwest Collegiate Football conference will result in one, two, or no new loops.

"It appears we'll have little trouble lining up six teams, and the chances are that two leagues will come out of it. One probably will be a wide-area basic and the other confined to Buckeye colleges," the Flyer football coach said.

Preliminary queries to Cincinnati, Xavier, Marshall, Miami, Ohio University, Ohio Wesleyan, Western Reserve, Toledo, Akron, Carnegie Tech and Butler disclosed a general interest in the conference idea, Baujan said, but, uncovered also objection of some schools to Marshall of Huntington, W. Va., and a belief of others that the conference should have a wider range.

Baujan on Saturday mailed a new batch of letters including Marquette, university of Detroit, Washington University, Bradley Tech and Western Michigan State Teachers.

CHESTER CAGERS RIP WELLSBURG

Triumph, 50-28, In Posting 12th Win Of Season

Chester High's cagers made it an even dozen in the victory column Saturday night by downing a fighting Wellsburg team, 50-28, on the Wellsburg floor.

The Purple and Gold five, although minus the services of its regular guard, Jim Jordan, who suffered a cut ankle after the Newell game last Thursday, started off fast in the first quarter, as it has been doing in a greater part of the games this year, by taking a steady 16-6 lead.

The second period was a similar story as the "Tuttle Tossers" worked the count to 30-11 at the half and 43-21 at the third.

Chester's high-scoring triumvirate of Dick Miller, Herb Coleman and Bud Wallace, again led the onslaught in accounting for 44 of the team's points. In the recent contest with Newell they scored 61 points among them or all but nine of the total.

Going into the last week of play, Chester faces two home games in Beaver Thursday night and Burgettstown Saturday.

In the preliminary game Chester second defeated the Wellsburg B team, 29-20.

CLEVELAND KEGGLERS TAKE CLASS A LEAD

By The Associated Press.
DAYTON, Feb. 24—Cleveland and Columbus keglers took over the lead in Class A singles and all-events to top assorted standings' changes in the Ohio State Women's Bowling tourney over week-end.

M. Tique rolled 577 to grab a nine-point advantage over another Clevelander, Ethel Suchan, in the Class A singles, while in the all-events Florence Seeds of Columbus set the pace with 1664 to shove Rose Suchan of Cleveland into second with the 1616 she scored the previous week.

Two Middletown Class B teams, Joseph R. Baker with 2343 and Reed-Klopp with 2329, rolled into fourth and fifth places, respectively, but failed to seriously challenge the 2516 posted by the leading Iron Kettles of Cleveland.

The Class A doubles combination of R. Hine, Salem, and M. Greenwall, Alliance, smashed a 1661 for third place behind Mary Danck and Rose Cuchan of Cleveland with 1035, and Fannie Parks and Grace Fulton of Warren with 1087.

In the Class B doubles, M. Kline and H. Caldwell of Salem had 1019 to take the second spot behind P. Withers and Lura Newcomer of Zanesville with 1024.

Jenkins Likes Present Post

PORTSMOUTH, O., Feb. 24—Paul Jenkins intimates he prefers to continue as high school football coach here rather than accept the offer of a similar position at Male High in Louisville, Ky. Jenkins, whose teams have won 34 games, lost five and tied three since he came here in 1937, reportedly was offered $3,500 annually for two years. He now receives $2,500 and Lawrence Daniels of the Portsmouth board of education said school finances would preclude bidding for his services.

Oilers Will Seek 7th Victory Against Akron Pro Loop Five

By The Associated Press.

East Liverpool's Fleetwing Oilers get their second taste of competition out of the National Professional Basketball league's ranks Wednesday night when they take on Akron Firestone in a Junior Chamber of Commerce benefit game at the Beacom Memorial gym in Wellsville. The Oilers' other engagement with a National pro team was Oskosh, who defeated the Oilers, 53-46.

Idle last week for the first time since the season began when the Hammond, Ind. team failed to make an appearance, the Oilers will be shooting for their seventh victory of the campaign, showing eight in the loss column.

The victory side of the ledger shows triumphs over Geneva (twice), Duquesne Kopriver, House of David, New York Shamrocks and Chicago Grenadiers, while the loss side shows setbacks at the hands of the Harlem Globetrotters, Clarksburg Oilers (twice), Duquesne University, New York Renaissance, Duquesne Kopriver, Detroit Eagles, and aforementioned Oskosh.

Viewed As Tough Foes
In light of the fact that the Fleetwing management has been booking formidable opponents all season, this week's engagement will prove no exception for the Firestone are known to pack plenty of offensive and defensive punch in their array of talented stars.

League champions for the last two years, Firestone is again coming down the home stretch with a tremendous rush in an effort to taste loop honors.

After a miserable start in which the Non-Skids lost six out of seven games played, all by a close margin, the team started a winning streak which has thrown them back into the thick of the race.

Show Victory Over Oskosh
Displaying the form and ability which has led them to be respected in the best of cage circles, the Rubber City boys have knocked off Oskosh, league leaders; Sheboygan, league pacemaker; and Goodyear, in third place as well as Chicago, Hammond and Detroit in the last tiffs against these teams.

Firestone is now publicized as the hottest team in the circuit and Saturday gained a place in the play-off series by defeating the Goodyear Vintages, 47-22.

Listed on the Firestone roster are such players as Tommy O'Brien, George Washington; Jerry Bush, Brooklyn St. John's; Bob Hassmiller, Fordham; Bob Loeven, St. Bonaventure; and Irving "Rip" Terjesen, New York University.

Tribe Hurlers Get Ready

PORT MYERS, Fla., Feb. 24—When the rest of the Cleveland Indians arrive tomorrow they will find the 19-man pitching staff already well advanced in training—and throwing curves. The squad will have less than two weeks to prepare for its exhibition opener against the Dodgers in Havana March 7. Outfielders Roy Weatherly and Jeff Heath still were holdouts.

UNION, WOOSTER PACE OHIO FIVES

Fireworks Loom As Teams Hit Stretch Contests

By FRITZ HOWELL.
Associated Press Sports Writer.
COLUMBUS, Feb. 24—The last big splurge of Ohio's intercollegiate basketball season is this week, with 25 of the Buckeye squads winding up their campaign in a 33-game program.

Following Saturday's contests, only 11 games will remain during the final 14 days of the season, with a dozen Ohio squads participating in the late scraps.

Fireworks Loom On All Fronts
Fireworks aplenty are possible in the closing games, with both the State and Ohio conference champions riding on the results. Mount Union, league pace-setter all season, was knocked off the top perch Saturday by Wooster's defending champions, the Scots taking the lead.

Mount Union must get past John Carroll to say to the state-wide hoop—a chore that doesn't look too tough since the Cleveland club has won only seven of 16 games while the Raiders have copped 13 of 14.

Wooster Will Be Pressed
Wooster's reign at the conference peak, however, may be brief. The Scots must brush aside Kenyon and mighty Wittenberg this week. The Lords, victorious in but two of a dozen starts, figure to offer little opposition to the aspiring Alliance crew, but Wittenberg is a different matter.

Coach Bill Stobbs' Springfielders, after losing their first three conference starts following a disastrous eastern tour, have found themselves and bowled over seven league opponents in a row. Wooster has won 40 loop games in a stretch on its home hardwoods, but Wittenberg looms as a definite threat to cut that string.

And should Wooster triumph over the Lutherans, the Scots must still get by Muskingum to take the lead, and that one is scheduled for the Musky floor March 4. The Scots, should they bow to either Wittenberg or Muskingum, would hand the laurels back to Mt. Union.

He is well over the 200 mark in points, accounting for 66 alone in three games and boasts an excellent 13 per game average. Teammates Wayne Hunter and Joe Molchan have been cogs in the smooth rolling machinery and during the last few games have aided Alston in the scoring department.

Monaca offers two talented stars in Adam Karcis and Ed Linkovics and three other regular fireballs, but the reserve strength cannot match that of the Leopards.

Reserved tickets placed on sale last week by the Midland athletic department are all sold, Alex Dalle Valle, athletic director announced, however there are still some general admission seats that will be available at the door at 6.

REES REFUSES BERTH AT WESTERN RESERVE

By The Associated Press.
CLEVELAND, Feb. 24—Trevor Rees, newly appointed freshman football mentor at Ohio State university, said Saturday he is not interested in becoming coach at Cleveland's Western Reserve university.

"Head Coach Paul Brown chose me as a member of the coaching staff by which he would rise or fall," Rees said. "I am honored to be chosen, and I am happy to go to Ohio State."

Cleveland sports circles had considered Rees the No. 1 candidate for the Western Reserve berth. Bill Edwards resigned the Cleveland job last Monday to coach the Detroit Lions of the National Professional football league. Rees has been at Shaw High school, East Cleveland, for the last four years. He said Western Reserve had made him no "specific" offer.

Friday night the local team triumphed over Alliance 946 to 543, in a Penn Ohio league contest at Alliance. The team here received a shipment of 8,500 shells this week from the government.

SECTIONAL COLLEGIATE CAGE LEADERS WILL BE DETERMINED THIS WEEK

Indiana, Wisconsin Likely Will Settle Big Ten Honors
Tonight; North Carolina, Kentucky Favored To Repeat In South; Kansas Leads Big Six

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR., Associated Press Sports Writer.
NEW YORK, Feb. 24—By the end of this week virtually all the important sectional college basketball races will be settled beyond reasonable doubt.

Indiana and Wisconsin likely will settle the Big Ten championship at Bloomington, Ind., tonight. Both may run into trouble Saturday when the Hoosiers play Purdue, the 1940 champion, and Wisconsin meets Minnesota.

The championship tournaments in the Southern and Southeastern conferences both begin Thursday and wind up Saturday.

North Carolina topped the southern regular-season standings with 14 victories in 15 starts, but the Tar Heels run into their only conference conqueror, Duke, in the first round of tournament play. Kentucky, which has a windup game against Vanderbilt tonight, heads the Southeastern with seven victories and one loss. Both North Carolina and Kentucky are favorites to repeat their 1940 tournament victories.

Kansas, leading the Big Six standing with six wins and one loss, can cling the title by beating Kansas State tomorrow and second place Nebraska on Saturday, providing that Iowa State, the only other serious contender, loses to Kansas State Saturday.

Except in those four groups, the titles either have been decided already or aren't likely to be settled for another week. Arkansas captured the Southwest conference crown last week, Stanford won in the southern division of the Pacific Coast conference but faces a playoff with the northern division winner, probably Washington State.

Hoosier-Badger Winner Looms As Loop Favorite

By The Associated Press.
BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Feb. 24—This is payoff night for Indiana and Wisconsin, the Big Ten's two front-ranking basketball teams, although Ohio State will be seeking its seventh Big Ten victory in 11 starts without hope of gaining a share of the title. The Bucks play at Illinois.

The Hoosiers and Badgers play here tonight and the winner automatically becomes a lopsided favorite to go through to the championship.

If the Badgers win, they can't possibly do worse than tie for the championship and an Indiana loss would blast the Hoosiers' hopes of winning their first undisputed conference cage title.

Both quintets were impressive in Saturday's games, the Badgers romping over Chicago, 65 to 25, and Indiana defeating Iowa 47 to 36. Gene Englund, as usual, led Wisconsin's attack with 17 points, four more than the total of Joe Stampf, Chicago ace, who threatens to win the individual scoring title. Stampf got seven free throws, giving him 63 and a new Big Ten record. Joe Rieff of Northwestern set the old mark of 62 in 1935. Englund now has 137 points with two games to play and Stampf has 131 points with three contests remaining.

Sport Chatter

NEW YORK, Feb. 24—Week's wash: Added starter for the Boston college coaching job: Earl Walsh of Fordham. . . . George Godfrey, who once drew a $150,000 gate against Georges Carpentier, was paid $10 for fighting an exhibition with Turkey Thompson the other night. . . . Frank Leahy's Notre Dame contract must call for him to stay there quite a spell, for he's building a home. . . . When the Washington Senators arrived at Orlando, there was a room reserved for everybody except Manager Bucky Harris, who had to check into the clubhouse until someone checked out of the hotel. . . . Alice Marble would have washed another year before turning pro, if the war hadn't washed up the Wimbledon tournaments.

Heart breakers.
The current issue of the Pacific Coast Gopher carries a piece by Miss Elizabeth Hicks, in which she says: Golf is like a love affair. If you don't like it seriously, it's no fun, and if you do take it seriously, it breaks your heart."

Quick look around.
Willie Hoppe, the eighth wonder of the world (Bill Tilden is the ninth), was guest star on Bill Stern's "Sports Newsreel of the Air" last night. . . . Box seats at La Tropical park, where the Dodgers train, are in the rear of the stand. Only a bandolero, or bum, would be seen in the first five rows. . . . Last week's best line was turned in by Mr. Gayle Talbot, our Havana operative, who reported the new Dodge battling car is large enough for Bill Herman to play right field in.

Today's guest star.
Tammy Fitzgerald, Louisville Courier-Journal: "Senator Haluska of Pennsylvania says he ought to know a perfect dive when he sees one because he used to be a fighter himself. . . . From force of habit, no doubt, he can't keep off the floor, even in the Senate."

On the fisticuff.
Old Pop Foster is schooling a new fistic protege who he says is a better boxer and puncher than Jimmy McLarin. Nuts. . . . Jimmy Webb impressed garage addicts as a pretty good two-handed puncher. . . . Lew Jenkins will be a hot favorite over Lou Ambers Friday night. . . . Rich sportsmen of New York, Atlanta and New Jersey will back Warren Wilson, Clemson's Southern conference heavyweight boxing champ, when he turns pro after graduation. . . . Either Anton Christoforides or Jimmy Webb will get Billy Conn's old job as light-heavy champion.

One man's opinion.
Distance runners come and go. But Rice can gallop for our dough.

Headline headliner.
The Southern conference's new recruiting rule brought this headline in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch:

Week-End Sports In Brief

By The Associated Press.
THOMASVILLE, Ga. — Harold (Jug) McSpaden won $3,000 golf open with 207, nine under par and eight ahead of Ben Hogan, Lloyd Mangrum and Chandler Harper, who tied for second.

NEW YORK — Greg Rice, featured National A.A.U. indoor track championships with world record three mile of 13:51, setting marks of 11:39.5 for 2 1/2 miles and 12:49 for 2 1/4 miles along way; Joe McCuskey also set world standard for two mile steeplechase in 9:35.4 and New York U. distance medley relay team made mark of 7:25.3 or a mile and seven eighths.

MIAMI — King Ranch's Diopose, a Kentucky Derby hopeful, captured $20,000 Flamingo stakes at Hialeah by head over Curious Coin after Whirlaway, winter book Derby favorite, was injured and scratched; Bimelech beat Hash in tuneup for next Saturday's $50,000 Widener.

LOS ANGELES — Moland became heavy favorite for forthcoming $100,000 Santa Anita handicap by winning $10,000 San Antonio handicap by a nose from Hystorical as Chaledon finishes seventh.

BUCKEYE BADMINTON STAR TAKES 3 TITLES

By The Associated Press.
CLEVELAND, Feb. 24—Ohio's hopes for a national badminton champion rose today as Ken Quigley of Cleveland emerged from the Ohio State tournament with three titles.

Quigley an Ohio State university freshman, will compete in the national tourney here April 3-5. Shirley Fry, 13-year-old Akron star, carried off two titles in the women's finals.

Kiwanian Keglers Triumph

COLUMBUS, Feb. 24—The Kiwanis All-Stars of Columbus won the organization's annual state bowling tourney for the second straight year over the week-end. They rolled 2672. Second was Alliance No. 1 with 2642.

"Conference limits recruiting to this planet". . . . One of the Atlanta papers said: "Southeastern schools lose privilege of giving jobs to athletes' uncles and aunts."

Week's wash.
Three National league football clubs will train in Wisconsin this summer. . . . Reason Gabby Hartnett was so sympathetic when he reported to the Giants was that he has been off the suds for some weeks. . . . Now comes info that Frank Leahy's five-year Boston college contract contained a clause that it was void if he was invited to Notre Dame.

Lombardi's plight.
Columbus experts say Rosecoe Toles was robbed when they only gave him a draw vs. Buddy Walker the other night. . . . Ernie Lombardi wants 18 grand—no more, no less.

STOCKS DISPLAY RISING TENDENCY

Many Continue To Linger In The Do-Nothing Division

By VICTOR EUBANK
Associated Press Staff Writer
NEW YORK, Feb. 24—Mild rising tendencies were displayed by leading stocks in today's market but many issues continued to linger in the do-nothing division.

Favored in early bidding were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, U. S. Rubber, American Telephone, Consolidated Edison, United Aircraft and Glenn Martin.

Bonds failed to show a definite trend. Commodities held to a fairly steady course.

Share customers discovered little in either the domestic or foreign news to get excited about, brokers said.

Market analysts noted the survey of the magazine Steel which said the prospects were that metal orders in February would top those of January despite the shorter month.

Studied also was the report of Twentieth Century fund forecasting a demand for labor that "certainly will exceed the number of unemployed persons in the labor market" as a result of the recent major increases in the defense program.

The War Today:

Japan Probably Intends To Dig In At Indo-China Base, Await Outcome Of Nazi Attack On England

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

NEW YORK, Feb. 24—Events in the western theater of war and in Far East continued to move with increasing intensity towards the impending showdown which will have its center in Herr Hitler's all-out attack on Britain.

An interesting development of the tense situation in the Orient is an effort by Japan to ally British and American suspicions of her aims for expansion southward.

Japanese Foreign Minister Matsukata was quoted in the Tokyo newspaper as saying, "Japan has not taken any action in the Pacific or South Seas calculated to cause any feeling of unrest in the United States or Britain."

Japan will be in a strong position to pursue her expansionist program. If Britain looks like the ultimate winner, Japan still will have gained an invaluable base from which it might be exceedingly difficult to oust her.

The explosive Balkan situation continues to produce a great crop of rumors. One of the most important of these comes from the Turkish official radio, which says the British are holding large forces in north Africa, ready to invade the Balkans through Greece.

The radio concludes this means Britain either is planning to establish a Balkan front against the Germans, or is bent on saving her little Greek ally from the Germans.

The presence in Egypt of British War Minister Eden and Gen. Sir John Dill, chief of the imperial staff, support the assumption that Britain is considering a big move.

EARLE

220-pound Earle, former Pennsylvania governor and World War commander of a submarine chaser, said:

"I wanted it off and retaliated by injuring his (the thrower's) features."

He said the incident, which occurred in a cafe just around the corner from the American legation, was "regrettable, but I saw no other course."

Later he added:

"It was hot while it lasted and I still think 'Tipperary' is a swell tune."

State department officials in Washington said they have not received a report of the incident through diplomatic channels but expressed interest in the news.

3 Saved After Trek Over Desert To Find Help For Lost Plane

By The Associated Press.

LIMA, Peru, Feb. 24—Fifteen persons forced down in a flight across the Andes rested here today after their rescue from the Secura desert, where three of them walked 50 miles in two days and three nights in an effort to find help.

The three are John Lear, formerly of Mechanicsburg, Pa., on a writing tour of South America for the Special News Service of The Associated Press; Hugh E. Wells of Shrewsbury, Mass., pilot and owner of the Condor airliner which became stranded in the desert last week; and Hermann Baumann, a Peruvian engineer.

The plane ran out of fuel after bucking a storm on a flight from Iquitos, in the Amazon jungle, toward Lima.

The other occupants of the plane were located by rescue fliers and flew to safety when their airliner was refueled.

Suffering from heat, thirst and exhaustion, the three who set off into the desert with only a banana and a bottle of soda pop for food and drink reached the desolate Pacific coast where fishermen with burros took them to safety.

"We were so close to going at one point," Lear said, "that the buzzards began circling around us."

"How do I feel? Tired? My eyes see mirages every time I close them, my hair is full of sand, my throat wobbles inside when I try to eat and I hardly can walk because of the blisters on my feet. That's not counting what happens to one who rides a burro for the first time."

OUT AGAIN TONIGHT!
EVERY TIME BIL SAYS, "SHALL WE GO OUT?" SHE'S JOHNNY-AT-THE-RAT-HOLE—SHE WOULDN'T THINK OF SAYING, "MAYBE ANY'S TIRED"—IF SHE DOESN'T GIVE ME A COUPLE OF NIGHTS SLEEP SOON, SHE CAN HAVE THAT EVENING DRESS DYED BLACK—

2-24

I CAN REMEMBER WHEN IT WAS A NOVELTY TO PUT ON A DRESS SUIT—NOW I HAVE IT ON AS OFTEN AS A HEAD WAITER—

IT USED TO BE A JOB FOR ME TO PUT THESE STUDS AND BUTTONS IN MY SHIRT—NOW I CAN DO IT STANDING ON MY HEAD—

ANY MOTH THAT EATS MY DRESS SUIT HAS GOT TO DINE IN PUBLIC—NOT IN THE SOLITUDE OF A DARK CLOSET—OH MIN!

HAD ANDY TURNED HIS HEAD AT THIS MOMENT, HE WOULD HAVE SEEN A FIGURE ALL IN BLACK STARING AT HIM THROUGH THE WINDOW—
